16th International Workshop on
"Single Molecule Spectroscopy and Ultra Sensitive Analysis in the Life Sciences"

Dear Arnt Inge Vistnes,

the 16th International Workshop on "Single Molecule Spectroscopy and Ultra Sensitive Analysis in the Life Sciences" will be held on September 15-17, 2010 in Berlin, Adlershof, Germany.

You can participate in the workshop by giving a talk, presenting a poster or without any presentation.

Registration is now open on our website.

Deadline for abstract submission is June 1, 2010.

The aim of this workshop is to provide an interdisciplinary platform for users as well as developers from Physics, Chemistry and Biology to share their experience and exchange information. Eight renowned invited speakers will present their recent findings and developments in the field of ultrasensitive optical detection and microscopy down to the single-molecule level.

When and where

September 15-17, 2010,
at WISTA – Campus Berlin-Adlershof, Germany

Invited speakers and their tentative titles

- Aleš Benda
J. Heyrovský Institute of Physical Chemistry, Prague, Czech Republic
"Dual-focus fluorescence confocal microscopy and spectroscopy"
- Jonas Korlach
Pacific Biosciences, USA
"Real-time DNA sequencing from single DNA molecules"
- Philip Tinnefeld
LMU München, Germany
"From single molecules to superresolution"
- Gerhard J. Schütz
University of Linz, Austria
"Chips, Cells and single molecules - towards a functional understanding of the nanoscopic organization of the cellular plasma membranes"
- Paul R. Selvin
University of Illinois, Urbana, USA
"FIONA looks at individual molecular motors walk and run"
- Steven A. Soper
Louisiana State University, USA
"Moving Single Molecule Detection into the Clinic for In Vitro Diagnostics"
- Jerker Widengren
KTH - Royal Institute of Technology, Sweden
"Transient state monitoring by FCS and related techniques"
- Jörg Wrachtrup
University of Stuttgart, Germany
"Imaging magnetic fields with nm resolution: a new dimension in bioanalytics"

Registration and fees

Deadline for registration is September 3, 2010.
Deadline for abstract submission is June 1, 2010.

Academic/University

early bird fee until June 1, 2010: 240 Euro
June 1 until September 3, 2010: 280 Euro

Industry and Private Sector

early bird fee until June 1, 2010: 750 Euro
June 1 until September 3, 2010: 900 Euro

Student award

To encourage especially young students in the Single Molecule Spectroscopy research a special prize of 750 Euro for the "Best Student Talk" will be awarded by PicoQuant GmbH.
